

Get to know more about Ashley Zhen!

As a rookie starting off in handball, I was really intimidated by all of the athletes that were experienced and those that preceded me.

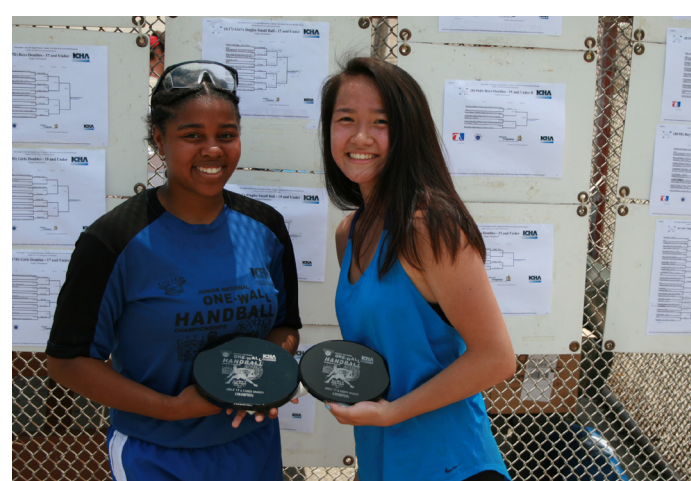

As I was more and more immersed into the handball community, I was able to meet so many new people by playing at new local parks as well as develop new relationships through the sport and my school handball team.

I give a lot of credit in my development in handball to my preceding school handball captains because they have motivated me through their enthusiasm and support. They introduced me to the ICHA world, and from then on, I was able to meet many new people as well as showcase my skills in a competitive environment.

From playing in ICHA tournaments, I got to experience and play against a variety of players from all over the city. With this opportunity, I was able to improve on myself by learning from other players. It has been an amazing learning experience to be a part of a friendly yet competitive community and the ICHA tournaments are something I look forward to every season.
